Hosts

Australasian College of Physical Scientists and Engineers in Medicine

The Australian College of Physical Scientists and Engineers is a not for profit Member Association comprised of members in the medical physics (in radiation oncology, radiology and/or nuclear medicine) or in biomedical engineering industries. Membership is comprised of both Clinical and University professionals at the forefront of patient diagnosis and research. As with any medical profession ACPSEM members often work in teams, alongside medical doctors, radiation therapists and technicians.

Whatever our discipline, the work we do, both in the clinic or research, aims to provide the highest quality of care possible. And indeed, everyday, we embody this year's theme of Shaping the Future in whatever application we undertake.

The conference is preceded by our annual Summer School offering training for registrars and experienced physicists. This year the school will split to provide training in "Image Quality" for DIMPs and "Radiation Treatment Planning" for ROMPs. Over two days, physicists experience in-depth lectures with leaders in the field, as well as the opportunity to form connections with other new members. If you are interested in the sponsorship opportunities during this event, please contact the Summer School Committee directly on paul.charles@health.qld.gov.au

To learn more about the professional groups please explore the careers or membership sections of www.acpsem.org.au
