TSANZSRS EDUCATION HUB 2022

EVENT DESCRIPTION

The inaugural TSANZSRS Education Hub will be held as a two-day educational meeting, featuring three short courses, including an ANZSRS Physiology course, various half-day postgraduate courses and breakfast sessions, and a networking event on the first evening.

The aim of the Education Hub is to provide face-to-face medical, clinical sciences and research practice education to the TSANZ and ANZSRS memberships through offering a variety of world-class clinical and research course programs developed by our diverse members. The Hub will also be a networking event for members from across Australia and New Zealand to come together (COVID restrictions permitting), and a unique opportunity for industry and stakeholders to interact with members within a relaxed environment.

We anticipate that over 250 people will attend the Hub across the two-day program. We encourage representatives from the sponsoring organisation to attend, and space will be made available to create a "trade display". Attendance at the Hub is anticipated to consist of both TSANZ and ANZSRS members as well as non-members who are respiratory physicians, advanced trainees, nurses, allied health professionals, clinical scientists as well as academics, research scientists and students.

The planned courses and postgraduate workshops featured as part of the Hub include:

- Occupational Lung Disease Short Course
- Complex Asthma Across the Lifespan Short Course
- ANZSRS Physiology Short Course
- Postgraduate Workshops/Breakfast Sessions:
  - o Research Skills
  - o Update on Pleural Diseases
  - o Laboratory Accreditation Training Update
  - o Tobacco Cessation Treatment
  - o Interstitial Lung Disease
  - o Paediatric Respiratory Conditions
  - o Women in Respiratory Health
